

Arkansas Fury

Arkansas Fury by J.R. Fitzgerald is an action, adventure story about three young men about to graduate High School and explore the world beyond their small town. However, they must first endure peer pressure and social problems that most all of us have had to face. Asking themselves the deeper question? What is our purpose? Also, attempting to figure out once and for all the balance between the right and wrong, and the gray area in the middle that is more difficult to define than anyone in society is willing to admit.
