

Mandate of Heaven

When the G8 summit and the Americas Cup are held simultaneously in Valencia, the world's most influential and wealthy individuals gather, bringing a multitude of desires and ambitions, but amongst them are those who seek to destroy everything they stand for. In this fast-paced thriller of complex plots and subterfuge, set against the backdrop of the oldest and most expensive international sporting event, David Blake finds himself in the most dangerous investigation in his journalistic career. Governments, terrorists, religious zealots and mercenary individuals compete against each other and amongst themselves for supremacy, but ascendancy will have a cost and some will pay the ultimate price.
