Healthy children are happy children. When a home is a healthy child, the parents are happier because the child plays and learns things every day, is a hyperkinetic and intelligent child the joy of being home. Having a healthy child should be as common in the vast majority of families that are formed. A large majority of children born are healthy and therefore happy. Continue healthy if their mothers breastfeed their children until age two complementing it with organic food. And from 2 years to 12 years will be strong and healthy children if their diet is adequate. There is a small percentage of sick children, either because they were born so or because they acquired a disease from infection (bronchitis, asthma) or a virus (flu) or a poor diet (allergies). When a child is sick there is sadness in the house, the child is still in bed, not playing with friends, cry for anything, it becomes capricious as some mothers to give presents unnecessary calm, the whole family is taking care child because it is a major concern and the time lost in this disease is one time the child stops learning new things and ultimately not smiling. There is a myriad of diseases that have children; some are common as the flu. There is a saying that has more than 50 years: The flu in the doctor heals in 7 days without medical assistance is cured in a week. We tell them that the flu if it can be cured with natural methods and economic, with home remedies found in the kitchen, but only if done the first day of treatment, to take a drop of onion (swab) in each nostril of the child, but it burns heal immediately. You can only use this treatment when the flu has just begun and only if condition in the nose filled with mucus.
