

The Scottish Gallovidian Encyclopedia (Classic Reprint)

I ntroductions, I dare say then (to be something like those strange fellows in whose corps I am enlisted), one must appear before mine, though methinks they are not of much use on the whole, but resemble, in general, a methodist dranting grace before dinner. O! that I could make mine seem like a lovely country lass, with fair yellow hair, red cheeks, and bosom divinely moulded ;just like her who conducts strangers down a worthy farmers trance to where, in rural divan, are assembled a heavenly family. But doubtful am I that it will turn out to be more like a rouch curr tyke seated in a comfortable manner on some foggy tomacky on his ain twa tashellie hurdiesy introducing, with many bouchs and bo Wicmvs a stragglng club of ill-tongued tinkler Sywith their cuddies their hampers and their ram-J wrns to a wild clauchafiy situated in the loop of some wild moorland glen. Be these things as they may, however, either as fancied, or, like the great English Lexicographer s1 wo-and-forty pounder before the door of a swine-stye, I shall proceed as quietly as possible, though, most likely, in a rambling manner.(Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and dont occur in the book.)About the Publisher Forgotten Books is a publisher of historical writings, such as: Philosophy, Classics, Science, Religion, History, Folklore and Mythology.Forgotten Books Classic Reprint Series utilizes the latest technology to regenerate facsimiles of historically important writings.
