

Love-Lust-Kink #9 Book 11. Mens Sex Toy Guide

There are cockrings, jelly vaginas, penis pumps and a few other things like that but the only thing I ever saw that looked half-decent was the Venus. A thing I saw from realdoll is a doll made out of silicon according to your desires for several thousand dollars but the thing is if you're going to have sex with it, you'll destroy it in no time at all. They ship to you in a trunk. Men use vibrators in their butts. There are prostate massagers on the market to vibrate the outer skin between your balls and asshole. They're like clit stimulators. Cockrings are not really sex toys even though some have soft, brushlike stuff on them that hits the clitoris as the guy thrusts thereby stimulating it. Some older guys and guys with performance anxiety slip on a cockring after they're hard in order to keep the blood in there and stay hard for the duration of the intercourse. The danger is that toxins can build up in the trapped blood because it is getting no oxygen. This could lead to medical problems in the penis. The general safe time is considered to be twenty minutes. Anything longer could cause cells in the penis to start dying because they are not getting a fresh supply of oxygen. If you plan to use a cockring, use lube to help get it on and off easily. There are various vaginas for men on the market like penis pumps, dolls and artificial vaginas. Cyberskin is a material that replicates the feel of human skin. A cyberskin vagina has a small entry hole that expands to fit a penis when inserted for a snug fit. Some guys add vibrating bullets to one of these vaginas to enhance the effect. There are a number of blow job simulators on the market like the Oro Stimulator or Autoblow, roboticblowjob.com. I've seen really cheap inflatable love dolls from Latex Lover all the way up to the silicon real doll. Most have three openings; vagina, anus, mouth. Some vibrate via vibrator bullets. The latest stuff is a Virtual Sex Machine for men, a blow-job type machine with a porn DVD that you watch while using it. The True-to-Life Interactive Game goes through a date where you control the action. Male masturbators are small sex toys akin to the female bullet vibrator. It is spozed to small and compact and look kind of like a computer mouse. They say you can take it on the trip but the security guy at the airport might ask what its for. A male masturbator is ribbed on the inside. Some male masturbators vibrate with batteries. Others are small fleshlights. A realistic vagina is a silicon vagina. Some use batteries or plug in to vibrate. Quite often a porn star endorses them, claiming its a mold of her vagina. There are realistic asses/ assholes. Some are on the backside of a realistic vagina. Penis pumps temporarily pump blood into the penis. Thats it. Insert your cock into the chamber, create suction by pumping until the vacuum forces blood into it. Some penis pumps vibrate. There are ball stretchers that temporarily or permanently stretch the scrotum. They do this for pleasure. They are either metal or leather rings that stretch the scrotum to hang lower than it usually does. In my opinion, all those sex toys made out of silicon-like stuff will be destroyed very quickly, even the fleshlight and the real doll. Imagine humping away at one of these things. How many times before you shred and rip the hell out of it? I tried a few of these things. Get real. Some piece of silicon is gonna break up if you hump it like you mean it. I know the answer. Ive been sending emails to sex toy manufacturers trying to get them to build my hands-free sex toy but nobody seems interested so I have to wait until I earn enough money to build it myself.
