

The Service of Clouds

It is 1907 and the Blue Mountains of New South Wales are filled with the grand dreams of elsewhere. Eureka Jones, a young pharmacist's assistant with historical eyes, falls in love with Harry Kitchings, a man who takes pictures of clouds and succumbs to the madness of photography. Set in a vast landscape haunted by sadness and the stories of romance which drift across it, the novel explores passion, illness and the secret desires men and women bring to the mountains.
